INCREASE SOON HAY FEVER VICTIM GIVEN RELIEF, HERE IN PHONE RATES EXPECTED

Official Word Lacking as to Whether Original Schedule Goes Into Effect

TOLL RATES ALSO BOOSTED

Mandan and Bismarck Rates Would be Increased Same Under Schedule

Telephone rates in Bismarck, Mandan and about 100 other cities and towns in the state are expected to be increased about October as a result of the federal court decision handed down in Fargo yesterday and toll rates to be increased about 22 percent.

Three federal judges enjoined the state railroad commission from prohibiting the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company and the North Dakota Independent Telephone company putting into effect the proposed increases. Bonds were required from the companies and it is on final hearing the railroad commission is sustained rebates must be made.

Proposed Increase

The present rates and the proposed rates in Bismarck and Mandan are the same as follows:

Present - 1-party business $3.50
2-party business $1.00, 1-party residence $2.00, 2-party residence none
4-party residence $1.50
Proposed - 1-party business $4.50
2-party business $3.75, 1-party residence $2.75, 2-party residence $2.50,
4-party residence $2.25

Under the schedule which the North Dakota Independent Telephone company filed months ago setting out the proposed increases, it was estimated that the increased revenue under the higher rates in Mandan would be $6.1200 annually and in Bismarck $14.25100 annually. The estimated revenue under the new rates for depreciation and profit in Mandan was estimated at 30.34 per cent and in Bismarck 17.99 per cent.

The trunk exchange rate would be increased from $5.50 to $5.50. The switching rate for mutual farm lines would be increased from $4.50 and $5.00 a year to $6.00. The increase for farm lines operated by the companies would be generally about 50 cents a phone per month.

The proposed rate in Mandan Bismarck and some other cities were objected to by the railroad commission majority on the ground that these cities were being penalized by a higher profit than is justified being exacted to make up for losses occasioned by operation of some exchanges in very small towns at loss.

Expected Oct. 1

No word has been received by the telephone company here as to whether the increase asked will go into effect or when, although the increases are expected to be made about October 1.

Under the proposed schedule of increases, the 1-party business rate in Fargo would be $6.00, in Grand Forks $5.50. The 1-party residence rate in Fargo would be $2.00 in Grand Forks $2.75.

The decision was rendered by Judge Kimbrough Stone of the United States circuit court of appeals and Federal Judges Charles F. Amidon and J. W. Woodrough. The case was argued before the three jurists Wednesday.

As a result of the decision the two telephone companies may now put into effect the increased rates as outlined in a schedule presented to the state railroad commission in August 1920. The court further ordered that the companies give bond to insure payment of the extra charge to prisoners in case the decision is carried to the United States supreme court and is there reversed.

Rail Board Admitted Need. When the telephone companies the Northwestern Bell and the North Dakota Independent asked the state railroad commission for authority to increase rates the majority members of that body handed down a decision denying the increases admitting however that an increase was justified.

The refusal to grant increased rates was based on the theory that other industries had been obliged to take losses hence the telephone companies also would be obliged to accept financial losses.

It was the refusal of the railroad board to grant the increase that resulted in the companies making application to the federal court for an order restraining the railroad commission from interfering with them in setting the higher scale of rates to effect. The court's order does enjoin the railroad commission from interfering with the companies in establishing a higher rate.

RUTH MAKES HIS 52ND HOME RUN

New York Yankees Strengthen Hold on First Place

HITS 3RD.

Philadelphia Sept. 8 Ruth hit fifty-third homer against Philadelphia Americans.

New York Sept. 8 The New York Americans strengthened their lead yesterday by defeating Boston in both games of a double header by scores of 6 to 2 and 7 to 2. After May's won his twenty-third game of the season in the opener, Harper, starting his third game of the year, pitched New York to victory in the second game. Meusel hit his nine run homer in the first game. New York made five double plays.

Babe Ruth pounded out his 52nd home run in the fourth inning of the second game, sending in a man ahead of him. Pennock was pitching.

The wallop put Ruth twenty days ahead of his 1920 record, when his fifty-second and fifty-third homers were thumped at Philadelphia off Stummel, on September 27. He has twenty-five more games in which to surpass his world's record of 54 home runs in a season.

BUCK TAYLOR BATTED .262

The batting average of "Buck" Taylor, of the Bismarck baseball club, was omitted from the tabulations published yesterday. Taylor batted .262, leading the pitchers in batting.

LET'S HAVE MORE OF THEM

Joe Thum comes back from Europe with the news that arrangements are being completed for an international bowling match between teams from U. S., Sweden and Germany.

Joe, one of the founders of the American Bowling Congress, has been abroad for three months stirring up interest in the event.

More power to him! International sporting events bind nations closer together than flowery phrases of silk-hatted diplomats.

RAIDS—AND RESULTS

The Big Ten, comprising elevens of the central states universities, is watching with uneasiness the formation of a semi-pro football association with teams in all large cities between Buffalo and Chicago.

This association is signaling up college greats of the past. But school officials fear that in the race for supremacy, present college elevens will be raided to bolster the professional ranks.

Such raids might sound the death knell for college football in the middle west.

LAST WORDS

Every time an umpire talks during a baseball game, he says a mouth full of law.

Baseball managers who have felt the occasion to protest a ruling have found this out. When His Honor the Umpire speaks that is all there is to it. It's all over but the protesting and that doesn't mean anything.

Recently the Cleveland Indians protested a ball game because so this Speaker claimed a Yankee player interfered with an Indian who was trying to make a catch. The protest came after the umpire ruled that there was no interference.

Tom Johnson, the man's way from the pine, but the umpire's word was plenty good enough for him.

So rules and regulations are not the law in baseball. Or at least that's the way it is outside of the rule of rules are up to the arbitrator's judgment and that's law too.

Truly an unpredictable way has his say.

THIS IS VETERANS' YEAR IN SPORT

BY DEAN SNYDER

Old heads are still carrying the athletic load.

The year of 1921 has been a veterans' year.

When it comes right down to a question of picking out best in any sport the experienced veterans are the ones we rely on.

The veterans have won all the trophies.

New and younger stars flash forth for a time. For the moment we think they are world-beaters. Then they fade into the background as the oldsters go to the head of the class when the real test comes.

OUR BEST.

In baseball, Ty Cobb is still blooming. Harry Heilmann his pupil, is outshining him by a few points but Ty is the more valuable man to his team. Jim Barnes, who has been a star on the links for years, won the national open.

No one has supplanted William Tilden and William Johnston in tennis.

Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, Mary K. Browne, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy—all champions of the past—tough it out at Forest Hills for the supremacy.

Young talent in sport promises much, it hasn't aged enough yet to bring home the bacon.

LOSERS.

French moving picture exhibitors won't show pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

They refuse to make a display of a countryman fallen.

Some call it patriotism. Others say they are poor losers.

It may be a little of both.

Good losers are few and they usually win.

Poor losers are many and they usually lose.

FORESIGHT.

Jock Hutchinson, professional at the Glen View club, Chicago, believes that one way to improve golf is to improve the caddies.

He will try out a system of classifying caddies. The class A boys will be equipped with red caps and the class B boys with white ones.

This will stimulate interest among the club-carriers and materially benefit all.

Many clubs are aiding in the "better" caddie movement by setting aside certain days a week for caddies to play on the course.

COMMENDABLE.

Bill Killefer has signed a young pitcher who doesn't play Sunday baseball.

He is Victor Keene, son of a Philadelphia minister.

The boy has been offered big stakes to pitch on Sunday but he won't cross his father's wishes.

There's something very commendable about such a fellow.

The boy has won 36 victories in all this summer in college and semi-pro ball.

NO BUTTERFLY.

Miss Cecil Letch, conqueror of Alexa Stirling, is sailing over from England.

She is coming mainly as a companion to Alexa, who visited England in an effort to win the woman's golf title, and failed.

The Atlanta girl gave the Britons thrills until beaten by a sturdier type of golfer, Miss Letch, herself.

And now we will see the woman who beat Alexa.

The British star is not the butterfly type like Miss Suzanne Lenglen.

PERCENTAGE.

Putting boxing on a percentage basis in New York is a precedent that should be followed everywhere.

No fighter is worth more than he can draw.

Big purses look good in print. They hurt the game by souring fans on the commercial side of the game.

When a fighter gets his divvy before he steps into the ring he has lost the incentive to do his best.

Pay them after they fight on what they draw, promoters, and you'll be shaking hands with better boxing.

DEEP VEIN MINE FIRST IN STATE NOW COMPLETED

Beulah Coal Company Mines

Coal 170 to 220 Feet Under

Surface

The first and only deep vein mine in North Dakota is now completed and being operated at Beulah, according to announcement of the Beulah Coal Mining company.

The new mine is located at a depth of 170 to 220 feet under the surface, which is 125 to 200 feet lower than the average coal mine in the state, it is said.

The capacity of the mine will be increased greatly by the extensive operations carried on at the mine during the summer. A great deal of modern machinery has been installed, in order to provide a production which it is hoped will be large enough to meet the demand for the deep vein coal.

The coal from the new deep vein mine is the highest quality of lignite coal mined and shipped by any mine in the state at this time, says a company announcement.

"You all know the old saying, 'the deeper the vein the better the quality of the coal.' The coal is a free burning coal with a very low percentage of ash."

"With a new tipple equipped with shaker screens, electric hoisting and loading equipment, electric coal undercutting machines, etc., we are in better position than ever today to take care of the increasing demand for Beulah coal, by reason of our increased production and better preparation of coal."

One out of every three families in the United States owns an automobile.

MANDAN NOTES

DODGE AND FORD CRASH

The Ford car owned by Ray Griffin and used by the county surveying crew, was struck and spun around like a top and sent crashing into a white way light pole at the Western Auto corner a few minutes after noon yesterday by a Dodge car rapidly driven by Carl Kohlbeck.

Jimmy Stark was driving the Ford, en route home to dinner. He was about to turn the corner to the west on First street from Second avenue N. W., when Kohlbeck driving at a high rate of speed crashed into him. The Ford spun around twice, crashed against the curb and lamppost, breaking off the light standard, and generally wrecking the jitney.

The Dodge car was not badly damaged. The occupants of neither car were injured. Kohlbeck will be called upon to pay the damages and to pay the city for the damage to the lighting fixture.

MANY OIL PROJECTS IN N. D.

A great many oil projects in North Dakota are now well under way. The Hettinger project has been given the most publicity so far, but recently Carson men formed a company which has plans under way to drill for oil in what geologists are declared to have proclaimed a well defined oil dome.

Now Lemmon promoters have been buying leases in Wheeler township near Leith and it is claimed by geologists who have that territory that that region, especially around Coffin Butte, gives the best promises of any field they have discovered in the state.

Leith men, it is reported by the Leith Index, have launched the formation of an oil company and plan to drill in selected locations.

Miss Katherine Theis, daughter of the late John Theis, former partner in the Cummins Thorberg Theis company, was united in marriage at Mis-

FARMERS FORM STRONG LOBBIES

Four Million United in Four Organizations Get Action
In Congress

By Newspaper Enterprise
Washington Sept. 9. Four million farmers are making their voices heard by legislators daily through four organizations here. The organizations are:

American Farm Bureau Federation a national wide organization of county and township farmers' councils numbering 1,125,000 members.

National Grange Patrons of Husbandry a secret fraternal farmers' lodge claiming more than 1,000,000 members.

National Board of Farm Organizations representing 15 organizations with a total membership of more than 1,000,000.

Farmers' National Council a national federation of independent farm organizations and individual farmers organized primarily to oppose monopolies. It has 7,000 members.

Before the entry of the United States into the war farmers had no organized representation here. The present Washington offices have grown up in the last four years. It was due largely to the pressure of these organizations that three important agricultural bills were passed at the Congress session just ended.

PROVIDE for supervision of the packing industry by the secretary of agriculture.

PLACE a prohibitive tax on future sales of grain in any grain market not licensed by the secretary of agriculture.

ENABLE the farm loan to sell bonds bearing interest at five and one-half per cent instead of the former rate of five per cent.

Bills introduced at the suggestion of farm organizations which are still pending.

SEEK to clarify the Sherman antitrust law so as to permit collective bargaining by farmers' co-operatives in marketing farm produce.

EXTEND the postal savings bank system to rural postoffices making every rural free delivery carrier a postal savings agent.

GIVE federal aid to highway building and create a federal highway commission.

PERMIT farmers to use Liberty Bonds as currency at par value in buying agricultural supplies.

And the farmers are planning a fresh fight for more agricultural legislation as soon as Congress convenes again.

Gray Silver is Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Farmers, he says, make up 40 or 50 per cent of the population of the United States. For years they've been sitting back and letting city folks and special classes get the fruit of legislation.

Now the farmer has awakened. There are only live real farmers in the present Congress. The rest of our representatives must be told about agriculture conditions. That's why we're here.

T. C. Atkeson heads the Washington office of the National Grange. He is one of the oldest teachers of agriculture in the United States. He taught farming when he had to write his own textbooks.

"Land tenancy is increasing," Atkeson says, and farm ownership is concentrating in the hands of non-residents. If this tendency is not checked it will ultimately result in forming an American peasantry.

Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National Council, sees the growth of monopolies as the greatest menace to agriculture.

"There will be no relief for agriculture until the strangle hold of the monopolies is broken," he says. American producers must be freed from the billions of tribute they pay under existing laws."

Charles A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations, thinks rural credits must have some attention from Congress before agricultural problems can be solved.

"The present system of land credit he says, 'is defective in that it furnishes credit only to the man of means.'

DEMONSTRATION IN MEMORY OF "ROCK OF AGES"

Burrington, Comme, Somerset, Eng. Sept. 9. The rock visualized by Augustus Toplady when he was inspired to compose the hymn "Rock of Ages" stands just outside this village and a great demonstration to perpetuate his memory was held there on the August bank holiday.

Toplady is said to have taken refuge at the rock from a severe storm which was sweeping over the gorge on the edge of which the rock stands and while waiting for it to pass over he was led to compose the hymn.

The great pilgrimage to the rock was organized under the auspices of the church of England but a Salvation Army band also took part. The 10,000 people present, some of whom were perched on jutting rocks on the side of the gorge, took part in the singing of the hymn. It was also decided that a memorial to Toplady should be placed on the rock.

Suelitz-Barr Nuptials

A very pretty wedding took place at the Presbyterian Manse, Wednesday evening, at 7:00 o'clock, when William W. Barr and Miss Elsie Suelitz were united in marriage; Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite reading the beautiful words of the ring ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, of Valley City, and is now Instructor of Agriculture in the Harvey Schools. The bride is the daughter of Fred Suelitz, of Groton, South Dakota, and during the past year was a teacher in the city schools of Worland, Wyoming. The attendants were Emil Suelitz, of Groton, S. D., a brother of the bride; and Miss Eliza Barr of the State Educational Department, a sister of the groom. Other members of the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Engleman, the latter being a sister and Herman and Fred Suelitz being brothers, of the bride, all of Bradford. After the marriage service, the bridal company, joined by Miss Margaret Engleman drove to the Grand Pacific where a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Barr, after a short honeymoon will reside in Harvey, where they will be at home to their many friends.

Miss Clara Anderson has entered the Valley City Normal, and Miss Celia Rosen is returning to the University of Minnesota. About the thirtieth of September Edwin Taylor will return to Annapolis Naval Academy. This makes the list of Bismarck people attending schools considerably larger and shows that a larger number are leaving this year than ever before.

STOP HERE ON WAY TO CHINA. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Keye of Fargo, stopped in Bismarck between trains.

Dizziness Causes Fall—Head Injured

"A year ago my stomach began so badly with gas that I fell unconscious and cut my head badly on corner of door. I had suffered from stomach trouble for several years and no medicine helped me to speak of. A druggist patched up my head and advised me to use Mayo's Wonder Remedy for my stomach trouble. The results have been really wonderful. I have never had any sign of my former symptoms since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince all drugists.

CLUB WOMEN OF STATE WILL HOLD MEETING IN FARGO IN OCTOBER TO CELEBRATE FEDERATION ANNIVERSARY

The club women of North Dakota will this year celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the federation.

The federation was formed twenty-five years ago at an informal reunion at Devils Lake and in the autumn of that year the first annual meeting was held at Fargo. On the occasion of the silver anniversary Fargo will again be the entertaining city and every effort is being made to plan a meeting that will bring together to the growth of interest and the wider influence that have come to us women during the quarter of a century that has elapsed since that first little group of women met under a tree at the Devils Lake chautauqua and decided to band the interests of North Dakota women in one organization.

The meeting will be held in Fargo October 4, 5 and 6, and a group of interesting speakers will appear as guests of the federation during those three days.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs will be represented by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the general federation. Mrs. Rose V. Berry of Berkeley, California, chairman of the departments of Fine Arts of the Federation, and Miss Minnie Jean Nelson of North Dakota, who is chairman of the department of education of both the general and state federations.

General President Coming.

Mrs. Winter has been identified with club work in Minnesota for many years and the women of the North west have a special interest in her presidency of the General Federation for she in a manner represents them.

Mrs. Winter will make a tour of the Central states and among the best of her autumn engagements will be her appearance before the North Dakota meeting in Fargo.

Mrs. Berry is one of the most inspiring speakers in the group of women working in the General Federation. She has chosen "Art and Its Place in Life" as the subject of her address to North Dakota women.

visiting Mr. Keye's uncle, Alfred Zunger and friends here. Mr. Keye and Mrs. Myrtle Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Wright of Michigan, N. D., were married at the bride's home on Wednesday and left immediately on the first part of their trip to the Orient. Their destination is Soochow, a city of 600,000 in the interior of China. Mr. Keye will be assistant professor of engineering in the American Christian college there. He graduated from Fargo college in 1913 and the following year went to Turkey spending two years in the American University at Beirut. During the war he served eighteen months in France. He was born in Fargo but is well known in Bismarck having visited relatives and friends here a number of times.

"I want to thank the club women for the interest they are taking into this subject of vision, power of life and living well." Mr. Perry in a recent letter. "I think there is a great reaction toward this work since the war. I want that this should be and I am going to do what I can to make it so."

Among the other speakers will be Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart of Frankfort, Ky. Mrs. Stewart has become widely known in educational circles with her work in establishing moonlight schools in Kentucky. Her efforts have been toward the elimination of illiteracy and the work done in the so-called "moonlight" schools with both adults and children has attracted the interested attention of the country. Mrs. Stewart is chairman of the Illiteracy committee of the National Education association and was a speaker at the last general federation meeting.

Another speaker of great interest will be Mrs. Ira Haslewick of Rhode Island, a lecture on the Child Welfare association who is fitted by training to give much helpful information on the society's responsibilities toward the welfare of the children.

Talk on the Planting.

Prof. W. C. Waldron, dean of agricultural college of Fargo, will be a speaker who will talk on tree planting for North Dakota. Prof. Waldron knows North Dakota in all its phases and his years of experience equip him to present the needs of the state in forestration and the methods by which the women of the state can help.

The anniversary features will be celebrated at a dinner and pageant to be held Thursday evening, Oct. 6. Prof. Arvold of the Agricultural college will be in charge of the pageant which will picture the history of women in North Dakota. An informal tea will be held Tuesday afternoon in compliment to the founders and past presidents of the federation.

RAILROADS

A plan for consolidating the railroads into 20 big systems has been worked out by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

That would cut out a lot of foolish competition.

It doesn't matter how big a railroad combination is, as long as the people control it through their government. And government regulation of the railroads is here to stay.

MYSTERY

Another old mystery solved. For centuries, archeologists were puzzled by perpetual lamps often found burning when they opened Egyptian tombs thousands of years old.

Now it's discovered that these lamps have wicks soaked with chemicals that don't burst into flame until struck by fresh air when the tomb is entered.

Time solves all mysteries.

SECOND-HAND

Karachi, India, prepares for its monster annual second-hand clothing bazaar. It will dispose of one of our peculiar exports, cast-off clothing, millions of dollars worth a year.

Hindu dudes' greatest ambition is to get a second-hand American dress suit, at $25 a dozen. Old vests are next in demand, at 20 cents each.

What Oriental this winter will wear those old clothes you sold to the ragman?

DEBT

What to do with the national debt. That worries many. Gentlemen with blue glasses think it can never be paid off.

American mines last year yielded $6,707,000,000, says the Geological Survey. Three and a half years of that would pay off every penny of the national debt.

The debt could be wiped out overnight if every American contributed $224.81. To carry it requires interest of only $8.65 a year for each of us.

Like most problems: Not as serious as it seems.

NETS

Fifty million dollars worth of hair nets, which help take care of woman's greatest nuisance, are sold in America yearly, says Theodore H. Gray, the hair-net king.

Hair for genuine hair nets comes from China. It's sterilized and dyed by Americans. Then back to China to be made up into nets by cheap labor. A year after the original purchase of raw hair, the finished net is offered for sale.

Few realize the tremendous details, work and travels of the common things of life, before ready for sale.

PYRAMIDED

Hot-dogs are threatened by the tariff. For 50 years sausage-casings have been on the free list. Now it's proposed to protect them by tariff, though 90 per cent are imported.

A. W. Kemfner, representing the sausage-casing importers, says the tariff would add half a cent a pound to the cost of making sausages, which would be pyramided to three cents a pound by the time the sausages reached the retailer. And what would he add?

This, brethren, is what is known as indirect or "painless" taxation. The ultimate consumer pays—several times over!

HOMELESS

"All dressed up and no place to go," pretty accurately describes the rather pathetic situation of former Emperor Charles of Austria.

He has been living in Switzerland since he lost his throne but has ceased to be a welcome guest and has been ordered to move on. He has asked years that they are about to build a hotel costing half a dozen European governments to give him $1,000,000 in the middle of the town.

The "moving day" fixed by the Swiss is close at hand and the former emperor is pleading for an extension of time.

RIGHT!

The declaration of President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor that the American workingman is entitled to something better than a standard of living which gives him and his family the bare necessities of life and that he will not go back to this standard without making a desperate struggle is a thing which needed to be said.

For it is the undoubted purpose of a certain re-actory group of employers to bring about just such a condition.

Gompers puts the proposition thus forcefully and picturesquely:

"Everybody knows that there has been but a slight reduction in the cost of living. A hog gets its swill, a horse its feed and both are given shelter. But food and shelter alone must not be regarded as the basis of the cost of living of the American workman.

"He must not be put in the same class as the lower animals. He requires and deserves something more than a bare existence. He is entitled to a few of the luxuries and finer things of life. And we are going to keep right on fighting to see that he gets them."

TIPS

Five bootblacks, the Gregory brothers, will build a $1,000,000 hotel at Uniontown, Pa.

They saved the million in 15 years since they came from Greece and opened a cubby-hole shoe shining "parlor."

That's what can be accomplished by "watching the nickles and dimes."

How many customers, whose tips helped the Gregories reach the top, have accumulated $1,000,000? Probably none.

INJUSTICE

An estimate, based upon figures gathered from every section of the country, is that landlords are taking from the average family one-third of its income in rent.

The pre-war figures showed that the average family's rent bill was but one-fifth of its income.

There is some justification for higher rents today than before the war, but no justification whatever for the refusal of the great majority of landlords to join in the general liquidation.

Sooner or later the public will find a way to square accounts with the rent hogs.

SECOND-HAND

Five thousand dollars a week alimony is asked by Mrs. Edward Small, wife of a New York theatrical promoter.

Ed can afford it, she says, because his income is $18,000 a week.

How does that compare with your income?

It seems enormous. Yet $18,000 a week is less than $1,000,000 a year. And more than 200 Americans take in that much.

And they don't all earn it, either.

But somebody else does!

QUESTION

An assistant treasurer of the American Red Cross has been arrested on the charge of stealing $14,000 of Red Cross funds. The police say he has confessed that he lost the money betting on horse races.

What kind of a brain and heart must a man have who will steal charity money for such a purpose?

The Canadian authorities are reported as saying in response to complaint that their own prohibition laws do not forbid the exportation of liquors, and as humorously suggesting that we might be offended if they undertook to assist so great a country as the United States in enforcing its own statutes.

Unlike Prof. Einstein, Mme. Curie did not see in the uniform cordiality and enthusiasm of her welcome in this country amusing evidence of American ignorance and lack of culture. She was pleased—and said so when she went home—with this land of "limitless possibilities for the future."

By being only 30 years old and good looking, Special Policewoman Hart of Philadelphia first attracts street "mashers," then pulls her club and "swats" them—a method which the "mashers" regard as not quite on the level.

The Gazette of Emporia, Kansas, boasts that when Ku Klux Klan organizers invited prominent citizens of that place to "join up at $10 per join" they found no suckers and were laughed out of town.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Oliver Optic, Horatio Alger or Mayne Reid would have vied with one another to make "copy" of the five Greek brothers of Uniontown who made a fortune by shoddy shoes in the last fifteen years that they are about to build a hotel costing half a dozen European governments to give him $1,000,000 in the middle of the town.

Bootblacking, or bootelegging—anybody who has anything to do with the boot these days seems to be getting rich. The chief end of man seems to be no longer the head but the foot.

The story is a rebuke to those who whine that all the promising claims on the earth's surface were staked out before they came along. There is no more paralyzing fallacy than this. The chances abound for those with the will and the wit to seize a standard of living which gives him and his family the bare necessities of life and that he will not go back to this standard without making a desperate struggle is a thing which needed to be said.

The tale of the five brothers is a recent instance of an old, old story, and a story especially characteristic of America, the land of opportunity for those who are not afraid to work.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

For it is the undoubted purpose of a certain re-

FORT RICE MAN WINS 40-ACRE CORN CONTEST

where her marriage to S. R. Miles, brother of Mrs. Edgar Johnston took place yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Miles will make their home in Minot.

Mrs. Anna Schroeder, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. P. Homan left yesterday for Fort Island, Minn., where she will visit relatives for a short time enroute to her home in Iowa.

John Homan of Alton, Ill., arrived in the city and will visit at the home of his son, Frank Homan. Mr. Homan has been at Litchville, N. D., looking after farming interests for a few days.

Second place in the contest was taken by G. L. Love of Mandan with a score of 92; third, Frank McMillie, Mandan, 91.5; fourth, Martin Graner of Huff, 91, and fifth, W. F. Lawrence, Soden, 90.25. Steve Koppy of Fort Rice was the only other entrant to exceed the mark of 90, his score being 90.05. The fields were scored according to maturity of the corn, stand, cleanliness of the field, and yield. Premiums were $60, $50, $40, $30 and $20.

Harry Long of Soden was the winner in the 30-acre contest at the Missouri Slope fair, which has just closed at Mandan. Roy Veeder of Mandan placed second, and Martin Graner of Huff third. Premiums were $10, $5 and $2.50 respectively. The fact that 1921 has been a banner corn year was evident by the quality and maturity of the ears entered in this contest.

"One of the big problems of the whole Slope country is that of feed," says County Agent Ilse, in commenting on the contest. "In the contest which has just closed, a total of 2,800 acres of corn was involved. However, we feel that the big benefit of the contest comes from the demonstration by farmers in every part of the country that corn is a paving crop for feed in Morton county and that it should not be necessary to ship in hay or feed in large quantities."

James R. Fitzsimmons of the O'Rourke grocery company underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Deaconess hospital Wednesday evening.

THE SALES TAX

Exposition of the Theory and Practice of This Form of Taxation

BY HAZEN J. BURTON

President Tax League of America.

Q. Is it not a fact that the sales tax was used in Egypt, Babylonia and Rome; that it prevailed in France prior to the revolution; that it has prevailed in many instances when a privileged aristocracy was in position to dictate the method of securing revenues of the state, thus deriving the greater part of the revenues from the sales of necessities to the common man; and that the democratic movement was instigated and maintained for the prevention of such methods of oppression?

A. Both the income tax and the sales tax have been safely used from the time of Moses with tithes on incomes of ten per cent and on general sales of one per cent. Both to the woods and bided his time. Now that he was safely down to earth again, he wasn't going to let any meddling fairyman and two children interfere with him any longer. He laughed and laughed and laughed.

"Goodness!" exclaimed Sprinkle-Blew. "I guess I can't finish my vacation after all, kiddies. What happened in the sky? How did all these Nuisance Fairies get loose?" He looked as forlorn as anything standing there under his dripping umbrella with his shoes soaking wet, and his mustache as droopy as a wet rooster's tail.

The Twins told him that it was all their fault—how they had left the key in the door, and all the rest of it.

Suddenly Sprinkle-Blew began to smile. Then he laughed out loud and slapped his knee. "Well, well, well! I forgot all about it. It was time, anyway!"

"Time for what?" asked the Twins curiously.

"Time for the regular fall storm. Twice a year I have to let all the Nuisance Fairies out together, once in the spring and once in the fall."

TIMBER GOING FAST

Being Cut Five Times Faster Than It Is Grown.

Annual Cut and Destruction of Timber Amounts to 26,000,000,000 Cubic Feet—Growth is 6,000,000,000 feet.

The original forests of the United States have been estimated as containing 822,000,000 acres which has been reduced by cutting, cultivating and burning to 700,000,000 acres, or to put it another way, cut virgin stands have been reduced to one sixth of their original area. Sixty per cent of the original timber stand is gone leaving us a balance of approximately 221,400,000,000 feet of merchantable timber.

The Indians raised a yell of triumph as they clung to him. But when they saw McCullough turn his horse toward the cliff they stopped in amazement.

Driving his horse to a dead run the scout dashed toward the precipice. At the brink of the chasm he drove home the spurs and as his mount flew into the air leaped himself in the saddle. The first leap was a clear drop of 40 feet, but both horse and rider were uninjured as they landed on the steep bank. Then slipping and sliding for 250 feet more they came to the creek bottom.

As the Indians rushed to the edge of the precipice expecting to see the crushed forms of horse and man far below they were astonished at the sight of the major still upright in the saddle, plunging into the creek and riding up the other side to safety. Within a few hours he was back at Fort Pitt, organizing a larger expedition to march to Fort Henry.

Five years later as Major McCullough and his brother were riding along a road near Van Metre's fort, unsuspecting danger, they rode directly into an Indian ambush. This time McCullough's horsemanship could do him no good. A dozen Indian rifle shots rang out and Sam McCullough fell dead.

MAJOR SAM McCULLOUGH'S LEAP FOR LIFE

It was a little stock de fense for the protection of the settlers of West Virginia against the English Indians during the War of the Revolution. It started in the summer of 1777 when Major Sam McCullough, a border ranger, in Fort Ligonier, Pennsylvania, 40 miles to the west, was sent to the fort to cover the retreat of his men until they were safely within its walls and delivered so long that the Indians succeeded in getting between them and the fort.

Setting spurs to his horse the border ranger dashed for a hill back of the fort. At the top he met another band of Indians and at the same time a third group appeared from another direction. The Indians were now on three sides of him.

Major McCullough made a dash to cut them off. Major McCullough held back to cover the retreat of his men until they were safely within its walls and delivered so long that the Indians succeeded in getting between them and the fort.
